

Faculty Bio

Rebekah H. Anguiano, PharmD, BCPS, BCACP

Clinical Liaison Pharmacist, Specialty Pharmacy Services
Clinical Assistant Professor, College of Pharmacy
University of Illinois Hospital and Health Sciences System
Department of Pharmacy Practice
Chicago, IL

Dr. Rebekah Anguiano, PharmD is a Clinical Liaison Pharmacist for Specialty Pharmacy Services at the University of Illinois Hospital and Health Sciences System (UI Health) as well as a clinical pharmacist for the pulmonary hypertension program as part of the Institute for Personalized Respiratory Medicine (IPRM) at UI Health. She is a Clinical Assistant Professor at the UIC College of Pharmacy. Her major responsibilities include establishing and implementing case management systems, specialty clinic-based education, training, and safety monitoring, teaching at the College of Pharmacy, and research related to her specialty.

Dr. Anguiano graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee with a Bachelor of Science in Biology and then acquired her Doctor of Pharmacy at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), College of Pharmacy. She completed her residency training and also worked at the Jesse Brown VA Medical Center as a clinical pharmacist until January 2009 at which time she took a position with a major specialty pharmacy as the clinical supervisor of the pulmonary arterial hypertension program. Dr. Anguiano is a member of several professional societies including Illinois Council of Health-System Pharmacists.