

Rebekah L. Hanson, PharmD, BCPS, BCACP

Clinical Liaison Pharmacist, Specialty Pharmacy Services
Clinical Assistant Professor, College of Pharmacy
University of Illinois Hospital and Health Sciences System
Department of Pharmacy Practice
Chicago, IL

Rebekah L. Hanson, PharmD, BCPS, BCACP, is an assistant professor and clinical pharmacist at the University of Illinois at Chicago, College of Pharmacy. She serves as the clinical director of the UI Health Specialty Pharmacy Services Patient Management Program as well as a clinical pharmacist for the Pulmonary Hypertension Program. Her major responsibilities include specialty clinic based education and training, medication safety monitoring, teaching at the College of Pharmacy, and research related to her specialty.

Dr. Hanson graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee with a Bachelor of Science in Biology and then acquired her Doctor of Pharmacy at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), College of Pharmacy. She completed her residency training and also worked at the Jesse Brown VA Medical Center as a clinical pharmacist until January 2009 at which time she took a position with a major specialty pharmacy as the clinical supervisor of the pulmonary arterial hypertension program. Dr. Hanson is a member of several professional societies including ASHP, ACCP, and PHA.

