

Faculty Bio

James S. Lewis II, PharmD, FIDSA

ID Clinical Pharmacy Coordinator
& Adjunct Associate Professor
Oregon Health and Science University
Departments of Pharmacy & Infectious Diseases
Portland, OR

Dr. James S. Lewis II is ID Clinical Pharmacy Coordinator and Adjunct Associate Professor at the Oregon Health and Science University Departments of Pharmacy and Infectious Diseases in Portland, OR.

Dr. Lewis earned his Bachelor of Pharmacy degree and Doctorate in Pharmacy from Washington State University. He then did a pharmacy practice residency at Southwest Washington Medical Center in Vancouver, Washington followed by a specialty residency in infectious diseases pharmacotherapy in a combined program at the University of Texas Health Sciences Center at San Antonio and South Texas Veterans Health Care System.

Dr. Lewis has been published in several journals, including but not limited to Clinical Infectious Diseases, Journal of Antimicrobial Chemotherapy, and The Journal of Clinical Microbiology. He serves on the editorial board for Antimicrobial Agents and Chemotherapy and serves as a reviewer for Clinical Infectious Diseases and the Journal of Antimicrobial Chemotherapy. His current research focus is on fungal and bacterial infections and therapy. In 2006 Dr. Lewis was awarded the Outstanding Clinical Practice in Infectious Diseases Pharmacotherapy by the Society of Infectious Diseases Pharmacists, and was named a Fellow of the Infectious Diseases Society of America in 2011. He is also currently the co-chair of the Clinical Laboratory and Standards Institute (CLSI) breakpoint working group.